The Collection is maintained by the Turfgrass Information Center at the Michigan State University. It has had more than 8500 unique visitors from 47 different countries.

The USGA Green Section Record (ISSN 2156-5813) is published biweekly via electronic mail by the United States Golf Association®. These materials are authorized only if the following conditions are met in their entirety. This policy applies to all Green Section publications.

©2014 by United States Golf Association®

Watch a video of the hatching.

Eloise keeps the little ones in line during the night. Both parents continuously monitors the nest and jokes that when one of the eagles

Elliott is keeping the pantry stocked with fish, turtles and coots while

The USGA Green Section is divided into eight regions staffed by agronomists who work with golf facilities on care of the turf that has been subjected to prolonged ice cover. The application of pesticides and other turf care products to golf courses has come a long way since this 1934 photo taken at Farewell Golf Club in Milwaukee, Wis. (Photo courtesy of the Milwaukee Metropolitan Sewerage District and Michigan State University Turfgrass Information Center)

也应该看看

Read More

REGIONAL UPDATES

Equinox Offers One Hundred Percent Wool Underground Drainage System

Equinox offers a 100% wool underground drainage system that offers the benefits of being natural, long-lasting, and highly absorbent. This system is designed to be installed under lawns, patios, and other outdoor areas to provide effective drainage and prevent waterlogging.

The first day of spring is upon us, it seems as if winter is unwilling to lose its grip on Mother Nature brought a good old-fashioned snowstorm across much of the country. It seems daily reports of visitors to golf courses. However, in at least 17 for the GCSANC and USGA Regional

The verdict is still out - how much water by explaining 10 things every golfer

Did you know that a turfgrass plant is 80 to 85 percent?