

REGIONAL UPDATES

The USGA Green Section is divided into four regions staffed by agronomists who work with golf facilities on care of the golf course. USGA agronomists provide regular regional updates outlining current issues and observations from the field. Be sure to view updates from multiple regions as featured ideas, techniques and solutions to problems often apply to other parts of the country.

NORTHEAST REGION

Have you ever wondered what golf course superintendents do during winter? The answer may surprise you. From accomplishing large projects to improving professionally, seldom is winter idle time for golf course superintendents.
