

of the Plainfield Country Club, Plainfield, New Jersey, which issues two leaflets, one a letter to members from the Committee on Caddies, the other Instructions for Caddies and Information for Players.

These are all steps in the right direction, and every golf club should encourage the movement. Perhaps some organizing genius can induce all the clubs to join in a unified effort to help caddies not only to become more efficient as caddies for the good of the game but also to become worthy and successful men.

A VALUABLE TRACTOR CATALOGUE

The Implement and Tractor Trade Journal, of Kansas City, Mo., issues an exceedingly valuable catalogue, entitled "Cooperative Tractor Catalog. An Exposition of Power Farming Machinery." The seventh annual edition is now available. Along with other information valuable to green committees it contains the complete reports on all tractors tested at the University of Nebraska up to May, 1922. The catalogue as a whole is a splendid compendium on all sorts of tractor information. Sections on the following subjects of interest to golf clubs are found listed in the table of contents: Illustrated tractor specifications, 48 pages; tabulated tractor specifications, 17 pages; report of Nebraska state tractor tests, 71 pages; tractor accessory and parts manufacturers, 43 pages; first aid to the tractor, 3 pages; tractor harrow, plow, and motor specifications, 14 pages; tractor piston ring and spark plug sizes, 5 pages; motor trucks, 8 pages; electric lighting plants, 3 pages; how good roads are built, 2 pages.

Questions and Answers

All questions sent to the Green Committee will be answered as promptly as possible in a letter to the writer. The more interesting of these questions, with concise answers, will appear in this column each month. If your experience leads you to disagree with any answer given in this column, it is your privilege and duty to write to the Green Committee.

While most of the answers are of general application, please bear in mind that each recommendation is intended specifically for the locality designated at the end of the question.

1. Checking ravages of "seventeen-year locusts" on golf courses.—We are very anxious to obtain any information you may have on "seventeen-year locusts." Already several golf clubs, having noticed that a number of trees on their grounds are beginning to show the effects of this pest, have asked us if anything can be done in the matter. Do you know of any method of checking the destructive work of these locusts?—(Illinois.)

There is a brood of seventeen-year locusts due in northern Illinois this year, and their arrival is what is probably causing the trouble. There is no remedy for handling this pest, but usually the damage is only temporary. The twigs in which they deposit their eggs are killed and they will
