- 24 issues published
- More than 60 articles, webcasts, and videos
- Each issue also included "Research That Matters", "Fore The Golfer", and "From The Archives"

We also hope that you have noticed that the GSR is free of advertising and is distributed free of charge.

We sent you a lot of information in 2014 - maybe even more than you had time to read when you received each issue. To make it as easy as possible for you to enjoy and utilize the GSR, all of the articles, videos and webcasts have been assembled into a single, easy-to-use , 2014 USGA Green Section Record Compendium.

The compendium is a very powerful resource. In addition to being easy to navigate and fully searchable, individual articles can be printed or shared via email and social media.

Please take a few moments to browse the compendium and feel free to share it with others.
